A detailed mechanical watch movement is shown from a top-down perspective. The central component is a vibrant blue skull-shaped case back, which is intricately designed with various cutouts and mechanical details. This skull is mounted on a silver-toned metal bezel that features a semi-circular shape at the top with three circular holes. The watch movement itself is highly complex, with numerous gears, levers, and plates visible. A prominent silver-toned hand is positioned across the center of the skull. The entire assembly is set against a dark, almost black background, which makes the metallic and blue components stand out. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the textures and contours of the metal and plastic parts.
